Over the past decade, the CJK Cooperation Dialogue has been playing an important role in promoting trilateral exchanges. Despite impact of the pandemic and complex changes in trilateral relations over the past three years, the Dialogue has continued to be held annually with joint efforts of the three sides to overcome all sorts of difficulties. This is really not easy.

I. Complement each other's advantages and seek win-win results

1.1 Only by cooperation can China, Japan and ROK achieve win-win results.

1.2 There is still a great potential for China-Japan-ROK cooperation.

1.3 China is the largest market for Japan and South Korea.

II. Joint construction and shared development

2.1 Jointly build RCEP as the world's largest FTA.

2.2 China, Japan and the ROK should play an important role in promoting high-level opening of the RCEP region.

2.3 China-Japan-ROK economic and trade cooperation should be deepened under the RCEP framework with a focus on trade in services.

III. Opening markets and deepening cooperation

3.1 The three countries should steadfastly advance the process of market - and rules-based free trade.

3.2 China, Japan and South Korea should advance the fulfilment of their market opening commitments under the RCEP framework.

3.3 China, Japan and South Korea should propel their domestic institutional reform by expanding market opening.
